

ACOLIN is Europe's leading provider of cross-border fund distribution services and is enjoying strong growth in demand. With around 85 employees in Zurich, London, Luxembourg, Geneva, Dublin, Madrid, Milan, Belgrade and Constance, the ACOLIN Group serves over 500 international asset management companies and offers them access to its distribution network of more than 3000 banks, global fund platforms and other institutional investors.

For you, law is not a jungle, but your passion.

As part of our growth strategy, we are looking for an experienced and committed

Compliance Officer (m/f/x) (100%) for our London City office. As a member of the ACOLIN Group Compliance, you will be jointly responsible for the creation and assessment of relevant guidelines, procedures and controls and will work closely with the other departments. You monitor all measures and processes aimed at ensuring compliance with laws and regulations for the entire Group.

Your tasks:

- Monitoring, Due Diligence and Distribution Oversight of our counterparties in EU/Switzerland and outside EU
- Support for the continuous development of the group-wide Compliance Management System
- Participation in the performance of risk analyses as well as compliance-relevant monitoring and control actions
- Development of risk-minimizing measures
- Ongoing optimization of existing process flows and implemented monitoring controls
- Administration, communication and further development of ACOLIN Group guidelines
- Conception and implementation of compliance training courses for employees and managers

Your profile:

You have a legal, economic or comparable degree and ideally already some experience in the area of compliance as well as knowledge of the MiFID II directive and the corresponding delegated regulations and European Union's legislation to combat money laundering and terrorist financing (Directive (EU) 2015/849). Rules are your world and you are also interested in the international investment fund business. Your personality is characterised by a pronounced ability to work in a team and by very good communication skills. You have a quick grasp, a high degree of independence and the ability to prioritise prudently. You enjoy direct customer contact. You are familiar with all common MS programs. Your mother tongue is English, every other language is a plus. Good presentation skills and fun in training and knowledge transfer round off your profile.

Our offer:

You can expect an international and dynamic environment with a well-rehearsed team and lean structures. Since satisfaction of our employees is very important to us, we are providing the basis to further develop your personal and professional skills. Additionally, we offer modern offices, flexible working hours and attractive employment conditions.

Would you like to make an indispensable contribution to the risk minimisation of the ACOLIN Group?

Then we should definitely get to know each other. Please send your complete electronic application including your salary expectations in one single PDF document by e-mail to career@acolin.com.
